

Pathways

Advancing Business, Technology & Leadership Excellence

Key Deliverables

- A full six-month engagement led by industry experts
- Small, interactive groups of 10-12 Pathways participants
- Monthly online assignments via Harvard Business School Publishing's eLearning tool
- Twelve-month access to Harvard Business School Publishing's eLearning tool
- Group orientation call and subsequent monthly content-rich teleconferences
- Bi-annual enrollment

Planning Your Leadership Transition

The Pathways: Planning Your Leadership Transition provides a framework for a successful move into a new senior-level position and a true head start on becoming a well-practiced future leader of IT.

This highly interactive program enables participants to create an action plan for their next transition. It includes group calls with designated program leaders and access to the Harvard Business School Publishing's eLearning tool. The resulting plan is a living document to utilize today, revisit tomorrow, and update as knowledge grows and new opportunities arise.

Upon conclusion of this program, participants will have a focused transition plan that includes:

- Improved readiness for the next leadership role
- Career-building expansion of their own network of peers
- Head start on preparedness for new senior leadership positions
- Identification of low-hanging fruit to tackle in the first few months of a new job
- Practice with a structured process for planning transitions

Program Leaders

Dr. Keri Pearson is President of KP Partners, a CIO Advisory Services firm. Keri is an expert in leading and managing strategic IT issues, and IT leadership development. Keri has been advising CIOs and their senior leadership teams of some of the largest corporations in the world.

Joe Hunter, President of Core Counsel Consulting, is an IT management professional with over 35 years of experience. He has held various IT management positions including 12 years as a CIO and today assists global CIOs in managing their transformational initiatives.

Get started on the right career development path today – learn more at council.cio.com/pathways

Powered by
CIO Executive Council
Leaders Shaping the Future of Business

CIO EXECUTIVE COUNCIL
492 Old Connecticut Path | Framingham, MA 01701
+1-508-872-0080 | council.cio.com

The CIO Executive Council was founded by CIO magazine and leaders within the IT community to leverage the individual and collective strengths of IT executives both to serve as unbiased and trusted advisors to each other, and to advance the CIO profession.

PWPL1009